

The Beehive Design Collective is a wildly-motivated, all volunteer, activist-art collective dedicated to "cross-pollinating the grassroots" by creating collaborative, anti-copyright images for use as educational and organizing tools. We work anonymously as word-to-image translators of complex global stories, gathered and shared through first hand conversations with affected communities.

the Social Practice Arts Research Center hosts a brown bag lunch lecture presenting new work from the Beehive Collective

SPARC
 SOCIAL PRACTICE ARTS RESEARCH CENTER

November 13th, 1-3pm, DARC 108 ("dark lab")
<http://sparc.ucsc.edu>

SPARC
 BROWN BAG LUNCH LECTURES

Made possible by the support of ARI and the UCSC Arts Dean's Fund For Excellence

THE ARTS
 UC SANTA CRUZ
 DIGITAL MEDIA FILM VISUAL CULTURE ARTS CENTER